

the car dealership maintains a service history for each of the cars serviced, the service records are referenced by the car's serial number (car id)